No Equity Trading Fee Charged on “TradeStation” Trading Tool Up to Three Months

- As a result of renewed complimentary services for large volume margin trading -

TOKYO, November 15, 2019 - Monex, Inc. (Headquarters: Minato-ku, Tokyo; Representative Director and President: Yuko Seimei, hereinafter “Monex”) announced today that it will expand eligibility of Margin Trading Support Program and extend the period of free equity trading on “TradeStation”, a Japanese equity trading tool for active traders. The significantly renewed services will be available from Monday, November 18, 2019 (planned).

“TradeStation” will now have two frequencies, daily and monthly, for determining the eligibility of the program, as opposed to the single weekly basis up to present. Customers who meet one of the conditions are eligible for cash equity trading and margin trading free of charge for up to three months. Monex will also relax some of the other conditions.

With these changes, Monex hopes to offer opportunities for existing customer and as many new active traders in Japan as possible to leverage the power of the Japanese equity trading tool, based on the system of TradeStation Group, Inc., a highly recognized online broker in the U.S.

■Overview

Program Before Renewal

Eligibility determined weekly	More than 50 million yen of new settlement of margin trading per business day (average)
	More than 50 million yen of unsettled margin position per business day (average)

If one of the above conditions is met, No equity trading fee is charged from the second business day of the next week after the condition is met until the first business day of the following week (for one week)

Program After Renewal

Eligibility determined daily	More than 40 million yen of new settlement of margin trading per business day
	More than 40 million yen of unsettled margin position at the market close
Eligibility determined monthly	More than 400 million yen of new settlement of margin trading in the month

If one of the above conditions is met, No equity trading fee is charged from the second business day after the condition is met to the end of the second month (maximum three months)

About “TradeStation” Trading tool

The Japanese version of “TradeStation” is a trading tool developed for Japanese equity trading, based on the U.S. TradeStation®, a downloadable trading tool offered in the U.S. by TradeStation Securities, Inc. and TradeStation Technologies, Inc. TradeStation companies who offer online brokerage services. U.S. TradeStation®, a trading tool designed for active traders, has been highly regarded, having received highest rating for “Best for Frequent Traders” for eight consecutive years in the U.S. financial magazine Barron’s annual review of online brokerage firms.

Monex is taking advantage of excellent capabilities of the U.S. TradeStation®, while reflecting needs of active traders in Japan by developing the Japanese version of “TradeStation” suitable for Japanese equity trading. The Japanese version of “TradeStation,” available to active traders in Japan since August 2016, is very well received for its advanced capabilities.
